ANJAAN — FEEL LIKE FILM

PRIVACY POLICY & TERMS

Simple website policies for visitors, enquiries and creative collaborations.

FILMMAKING • PHOTOGRAPHY • VISUAL STORYTELLING

www.anjaanparihar.com

Last updated: 29 October 2026

A QUICK NOTE

These are general website policies to help visitors understand how the ANJAAN website works and how we approach privacy, creative content and enquiries. Specific client projects—such as weddings, films, photography assignments or collaborations—may have their own proposal or agreement with the exact services, fees, timelines and conditions.

PART I

Privacy Policy

1. Information you share

If you contact us through the website, email, phone, WhatsApp or social media, you may share details such as your name, contact information, event or project date, location, budget range, requirements and any message or files you choose to send. Please share only information relevant to your enquiry.

2. How we use it

We use enquiry and project information to reply to you, understand your requirements, prepare proposals, communicate about work, manage bookings and deliver agreed services. We may also use basic technical information to maintain website security and improve the website where relevant tools are enabled.

3. Sharing information

We do not sell your personal information. We may share relevant information with trusted service providers or collaborators when reasonably needed to operate the website or deliver a project—for example, website hosting, email, file delivery, galleries, production crew or editing support. We may also disclose information when required by law.

4. Photos, videos and privacy

Photos, films and other materials are handled according to the relevant project arrangements and permissions. Being photographed or appearing at an event does not automatically mean that every image or video will be published publicly. Portfolio, promotional or social-media use should follow the permissions agreed for that project and applicable law.

5. Storage and security

We take reasonable steps to protect information and keep it only as long as reasonably needed for enquiries, projects, business records or legal obligations. No online service or file-transfer method can be guaranteed completely secure. Clients should download and back up their delivered files; long-term storage of raw footage, galleries or project files is not guaranteed unless specifically agreed.

6. Your choices

You can contact us to ask about the personal information you have shared, request correction, or ask us to delete information where appropriate. Some records may need to be retained for a project, business or legal reason. You can also opt out of promotional communications if you receive them.

7. Third-party services

The website may link to or embed services such as Instagram, YouTube, WhatsApp, maps or online galleries. These services have their own privacy practices, which we do not control. Cookies or analytics may also depend on the tools enabled on the live website.

8. Contact and updates

For a privacy question, use the official contact details listed on www.anjaanparihar.com. We may update this policy when our website, services or practices change.

PART II

Terms & Conditions

1. Website use

You may use this website to learn about our work and services, view the portfolio and make genuine enquiries. Do not misuse the website, attempt unauthorised access, upload harmful code, copy content in a misleading way or use the website for unlawful purposes.

2. Enquiries and bookings

Sending an enquiry does not confirm a booking. Availability, scope, deliverables, dates, fees, payment schedule and other project details are confirmed through the relevant written proposal, invoice or client agreement.

3. Creative services and deliverables

Creative work depends on the brief, agreed scope, location, schedule, lighting, weather, access, cooperation and other practical conditions. The deliverables, formats, revision rounds, delivery timeline and any exclusions will be set out in the project-specific agreement. Raw footage, unedited images, project files or editable timelines are not included unless agreed in writing.

4. Payments, cancellations and changes

Fees, booking payments, instalments, cancellation, postponement, rescheduling and refunds are governed by the accepted proposal or client agreement and applicable law. Any change to the agreed scope or schedule may affect the fee or delivery timeline and should be confirmed in writing.

5. Copyright and use of work

Website text, logos, photographs, films, edits and other original creative content belong to their respective rights holders. Do not copy, sell, alter or commercially use this content without permission, except where the law allows. Client usage rights for commissioned work are defined in the relevant project agreement; payment alone does not automatically transfer every copyright or third-party licence.

6. Portfolio and publicity

We may show selected work in our portfolio or promotional channels where the relevant permissions and project arrangements allow it. We respect privacy and do not treat a booking by itself as permission to publish every identifiable image, especially where children, private events or specific restrictions are involved. Any agreed limits in the project contract should be followed.

7. Client-provided materials

If you send us photographs, music, logos, scripts, references or other material, you should have the right or permission to share it for the intended project. Please tell us about any restrictions or required credits before work begins.

8. Links and third-party platforms

External links, social media, video platforms, online galleries and other third-party services are operated by their own providers. We are not responsible for their content, availability or policies.

9. Website information and availability

We aim to keep the website and portfolio accurate, but content, services and availability may change. Portfolio examples are illustrative and do not guarantee identical results or availability for future projects. We cannot promise uninterrupted access to the website at all times.

10. Responsibility and unexpected events

To the extent allowed by law, we are not responsible for losses arising from misuse of the website or from third-party services outside our reasonable control. Nothing in these terms removes rights or protections that cannot legally be excluded. Events such as severe weather, emergencies, travel disruption, venue restrictions or other circumstances beyond reasonable control may affect a project; the practical arrangements will be handled under the relevant client agreement and applicable law.

11. Applicable law

These website terms are intended to be governed by the laws of India. Any dispute will be handled by a court or other forum with proper jurisdiction under applicable law. A signed project agreement may include more specific terms for that project.

12. Changes to these terms

We may update these policies from time to time. The updated version will be published on the website with a revised date where appropriate.

ANJAAN PARIHAR

Filmmaker & Creative Director
Jodhpur, Rajasthan, India

ANJAAN — Feel Like Film

Clear expectations. Respect for privacy. Creative work made with care.

These policies provide general information for website visitors. The accepted proposal or signed agreement for an individual project contains the specific terms for that booking.